- Artificial Intelligence

- Alan Turing - Oxford

- Arthur Samuel - MIT/Stanford

- John McCarthy - Stanford

- Marvin Minsky - MIT

- It's been around since the 1950's

- Companies like Amazon, Facebook & Google have been using it for YEARS

Create a Lesson About...

Lesson Plan Title: Jazz History

Grade Level: Middle School (6-8)

Objective:
Students will understand the origins and development of Jazz music, including its cultural and social significance.

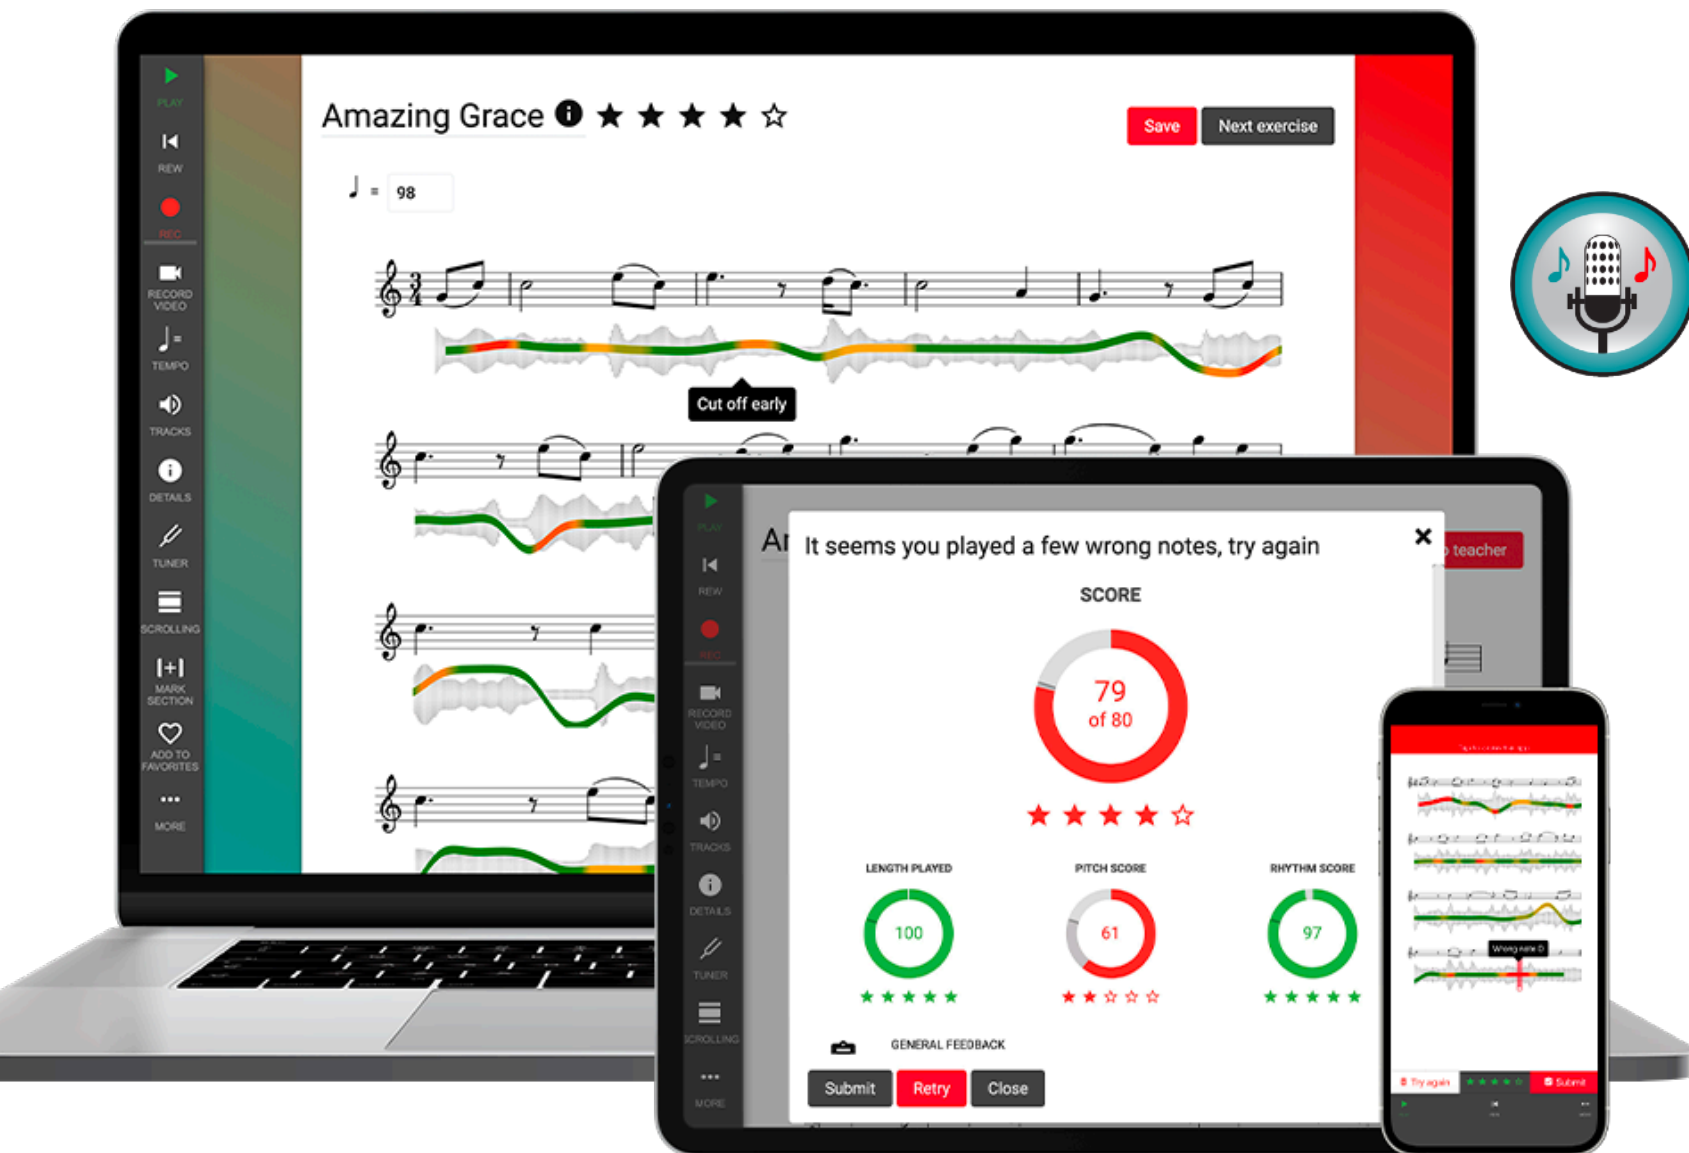

Materials:
Jazz music recordings (various styles and periods)
Computers or tablets with internet access
Whiteboard and markers
Jazz history resources (books, articles, websites)
Musical instruments (optional)
Introduction (10 minutes):
The teacher will begin by playing a short piece of Jazz music, and ask students to listen carefully and describe what they hear. The teacher will then ask the class if they have heard Jazz music before, and if they have any idea of what Jazz music is. The teacher will introduce the topic of Jazz history, and explain that Jazz is a uniquely American music form that has been enjoyed by people all over the world.

Body (45 minutes):
Origins of Jazz
The teacher will introduce the concept of African-American musical traditions, and explain how Jazz originated from the blending of various musical traditions including African rhythms and European harmony. The teacher will provide examples of early Jazz musicians such as Buddy Bolden, Jelly Roll Morton, and Louis Armstrong.

Jazz in the 1920s
The teacher will explain how Jazz became popular during the 1920s, known as the "Jazz Age." The teacher will discuss the emergence of Jazz musicians such as Duke Ellington, Bessie Smith, and Count Basie, and how

The image displays the SRF app interface across three devices: a desktop monitor, a tablet, and a smartphone. All devices show the same music notation for 'Alto Iv. 4' in 4/4 time, starting with a forte (f) dynamic. The desktop interface includes a play button, a 'Next' button, and a tempo control set to 56. The tablet and smartphone interfaces also show the play button and tempo control, with the smartphone displaying a volume icon and a vertical scroll bar. The music notation consists of a treble clef staff with a melody of quarter notes and a bass clef staff with a simple accompaniment.
